ISLAND STEAMERS CAN'T HOLD BACK

On such an occasion as Christmas, Fourth of July, an annual meeting of the planters, or the races, when the steamers of the two fleets plying between the various islands of this group defer their departure for a day, the consent of the postoffice department at Washington has to be gained, and usually months in advance. The steamers, carrying the United States mails between Honolulu and all other landings on the other islands, are subject to the rigorous regulations of the postoffice department, and the slightest deviation therefrom lays the steamship companies open to the penalty imposed under the regulations, usually a heavy fine.

The public does not take into consideration that when a delegation of citizens waits upon the managers of the respective companies to ask that the departure of this or that steamer be deferred for twenty-four hours, the steamship manager has little to say in the matter. It is the Second Assistant Postmaster General at Washington, several thousand miles distant, who has the authority to say whether or not such a delay shall be permitted.

As the steamers have their schedules publicly exposed, stating that they will leave at such and such a time on such and such a day, the postoffice department entered into agreements with the companies owning the steamers that their mails shall be pouched and delivered on the decks of the steamers a few minutes previous to such time of scheduled sailing, and then the steamers must go on their run. The only way in which the steamers can remain in port beyond their schedule time is when the weather is so bad that the captain shakes their heads and decide there is no safety either for mails, passengers or the vessel itself. Then and only then do the elements take precedence over the entire postoffice and its officials.

When the planters, who were meeting in annual session last week, desired that the Hawaii and Maui steamers wait for them a day until their deliberations were at an end, the consent of the postoffice department had been gained several weeks in advance, in anticipation of such a request. Should the steamship companies take the matter into their own hands and hold their steamers beyond schedule time, the local postoffice inspector would report the matter to Washington and a fine would result.

Ships Idle.

HILLO, March 28.—Last Tuesday was the first day within two weeks that weather conditions permitted the loading of sugar on the various vessels waiting in the harbor. Sugar is piling up fast in the various warehouses. There are over 36,000 sacks of Oloa sugar in the warehouse awaiting transfer to vessels, 32,000 sacks at Hakalau and 17,000 sacks at Pepeekeo. The Matson line has three vessels in port, the Marion Chilcott, the Annie Johnson and the Rhoderick Dhu. Since the weather cleared up, the Matson people have been working three shifts of men at loading sugar, and the Rhoderick hopes to sail today. The Helen Brewer has been lying in the harbor for nearly a month, without being able to take a pound of cargo and the promise of fair weather brings joy to the heart of the skipper.

REPUBLICANS WILL FIGHT

Dreier Men Work to Keep Him Running.

While Home Rulers are waiting upon the decision of Acting Governor Cooper as to what he is going to do in the matter of putting the name of August Dreier on the official ballot, Republicans are going ahead and preparing for the battle as if there was a great fight in prospect. There will be filed with the Acting Governor, as morning the detailed claims of the Home Rulers, why the name of their candidate should be placed on the ballot, and as there was assurance given yesterday that there would be full consideration, the party is doing nothing.

There was some show of work done on the matter of the candidacy of Dreier early yesterday. There were consultations of attorneys and the result of these was a call upon the Governor by representatives of the party. They placed before Mr. Cooper the claims that as the candidate was a citizen of ten years' standing, who had not been registered at the regular time, there could be no disbaring him from running now at a special election. The law was claimed to be unconstitutional in part, and the general point made that any interpretation of the law shutting out the party from having a candidate at the election would be a disfranchisement of the members of the party. The Acting Governor will agree to wait the filing of the papers and further said that he would take up the consideration of the matter on the oral statement and would make his decision at once. The Home Rulers say they expect there will be a reference of the matter to the courts at once, so that the right of their party to a candidate will be settled legally. All that they want is the chance to cast a vote and have it counted, believing that in any contest at the end their majority in the House would seat the member.

If there is a chance for him to serve. Republicans believe they will win hands down, but they decided last evening that they would make a fight for the place anyhow. The meeting of the Fourth District committee with members of the executive committee was well attended. After calling the meeting to order Chairman Gear said it had been suggested that there be nothing done until the Governor and the courts had decided that the Home Rulers had a right to name a candidate. It was the sense of the committee that work be taken up anyway and the committee got to work just as though there was nothing in the way of a fight. The two chairmen, Kennedy of the executive committee and Gear of the Fourth district were appointed to watch the contest over Dreier, so that the Home Rulers may not gain ground.

After consultation the committee reported. Chairman Wilson of the committee on meetings said that there would be two meetings in each precinct. A number of speakers were discussed, and it was decided that the speakers should discuss city and county government and the position of the party in the matter of the disfranchisement of the Hawaiians.

Chairman King of the canvassing committee said that the Young Men's Republican Club would be asked to do the canvassing of the district and to make a thorough visit canvass of all the voters.

The finance committee said that there would be so much work to be done that it would cost perhaps $1500 to make the fight as hard as it should be. Territorial Committeeman Cooke interjected that he thought it would be impossible to get hold of the money, owing to the fact that there had been so much collecting going on. There seemed to be a general feeling that the committee would not realize nearly so much money. Henry Waterhouse was chosen chairman of this committee. The meeting adjourned until this evening.

It is understood that in the event of the refusal of the acting governor to hold that Dreier may be on the ticket, then the Home Rulers will try to get Beardslee on it, and that their petition is now being passed around for signatures. Dreier, however, says he will fight to the last ditch before he gives up the nomination.

A LONG FELT WANT.

It is Supplied in Honolulu at Last.

It is hard always to be pleasant. Good-natured people are often irritable.

If you knew the reason you would not be surprised.

Ever have itching piles?

Not sick enough to go to bed nor well enough to be content.

Nothing will annoy you so.

The constant itching sensation.

Hard to bear, harder to get relief.

Keeps you awake nights.

Spills your temper—nearly drives you crazy.

Isn't relief and cure a long-felt want?

It is to be had for everyone in Doan's Ointment.

Doan's Ointment never fails to cure itching piles.

Eczema or any itchininess of the skin.

Here is proof of it in the testimony of

Mr. Frank Leibly of 326 S. Main st., Wilkesbarre, Pa., who says: "It is with much pleasure that I testify to the merits of Doan's Ointment in cases of meriting affliction for the past year, itching piles. I suffered from that torrid nearly everything that was recommended to me and what I saw advertised, but I could get no relief. Finally I procured Doan's Ointment. After a few applications I was much relieved, and, continuing the treatment, I was soon completely cured. I have felt no signs of that intolerable itching since, and it is four months ago since I used Doan's Ointment. To say that I was delighted is only half expressing my enthusiasm. I recommend this remedy whenever the opportunity is presented. You may publish my statement at any time and I can always be found at 326 S. Main street, and will vouch for the same."

NO SUGAR WAR DECLARED YET

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The proposed consolidation of beet sugar interests which has kept the speculative market guessing for so long a time, seems to be well under way in the East, but the main difficulty is to get the many with the industry profess to have no information on the subject. Dispatches yesterday told of the arrival of former Congressman James Hamilton Lewis of Washington, in Chicago, with the announcement that a deal had practically been completed whereby the many independent beet sugar companies of the West would unite to form a single corporation, capitalized at $100,000,000, and fight the Havemeyer sugar trust to a finish. Lewis is president of the Idaho Sugar Refining Company, and he said that he spoke for a number of corporations besides his own. It was intimated that the Oxford influence of this city was back of the movement.

Vice-President Robert Oxnard of the American Beet-Sugar Company said yesterday: "The first news I received of the reported consolidation of the beet sugar companies came in my morning newspaper. It may or may not be true, but you can say positively that the American Beet-Sugar Company is not in the deal. I never heard of James Hamilton Lewis before and he does not speak for us in any way. I am quite sure that he never approached us on the subject."

In reply to a direct question as to the probability of the formation of a trust to fight the Havemeyer trust, Mr. Oxnard said: "That has been proposed time and again. Perhaps some day the suggestions that have been offered may materialize and it is not impossible that some such results as Lewis speaks of may come of present plans. But all that is a matter of speculation. Up to date there has been no consolidation and no definite plans made, so far as my company is concerned."
